

BREAK OLD MARKS IN SEVENTY-SIXTH YEAR AT PUNAHOU

Record Enrolments Will Exceed Last Year's By At Least one Hundred

WILLIAM R. CASTLE URGES VIGOROUS SCHOOL SPIRIT

Recalls Days When He Regarded
Study As Conspiracy
Against Boyhood

Punahou Academy and Preparatory School opened the seventy-sixth year's work yesterday morning with a record enrolment. While no figures have been issued, it appears that the registration will exceed that of the first day last year by at least one hundred. The gain was very evident in the crowded condition of all rooms.

At the opening exercises the chapel in Punahou hall was entirely inadequate for the academy students. A locker system for the use of the commercial students has been installed in Bingham hall to relieve the congestion in the study halls where the students leave their books. In the grade department it was found necessary to open a new classroom and secure an extra teacher.

Address by Mr. Castle

L. C. Howland, who is acting as president of Oahu in the absence of President Griffiths, opened the chapel exercises and called upon William R. Castle of the board of trustees to speak of ideals and purposes of the year.

"I know you don't wish me to make a speech," said Mr. Castle, "but I wish to give you all, students and teachers, a hearty 'Aloha'."

Mr. Castle then spoke briefly upon the opportunities of an education and recalled an amusing incident of his own boyhood.

"When I was a boy," he said, "long before I even was a student at Punahou, I was a healthy youngster, and considered reading, spelling, and geography inventions to spoil a boy's fun. My mother strove to interest me in learning, but I didn't like it. One day she asked me if I wished to grow up and be an ignoramus, and get along just the best I could. I said 'Yes,' so she let me put all my books away."

Experiences Change of Heart

"I had a fine time playing for three or four days, and then I began to see the other boys going to school, and began to wonder whether perhaps I hadn't made a mistake after all. At last I decided that I had, so I sneaked in to my mother in a very shamefaced manner and asked her where my lessons were. I studied then for two or three years, and at last was able to come to Punahou."

"Don't miss your opportunities here. I shall always regret that I didn't make more of my opportunities when I was at Punahou. All of us older students (Mr. Castle laughingly waved his hand toward the teachers who were seated on the platform) have regrets like that over the opportunities we missed in our school days."

Mr. Castle closed his talk with an appeal to all connected with Punahou to cooperate in maintaining a sound and vigorous Punahou spirit.

Where School Spirit Lies

"The yelling at the football games isn't all there is to school spirit," he said. "That is just one way to show it, but the spirit must be behind every thing you do, and it requires the help of every one of you to keep it sound and strong."

E. T. Chase, who is in charge of the academy department this year, made the announcements.

Most of the morning was given up to registration. Class work will begin today.

The first military drill will be held Thursday, and Coach McKidiff plans on calling out the football men for the first practice Wednesday afternoon. An effort is being made this year to interest every boy of the school in some form of athletics, and a large turnout for football is expected.

Several of the teachers who planned to come from San Francisco in the Ventura were late in reporting because of the delayed sailing of their ship. They will arrive, however, in the Matsonia today.

SECRETARY TO MAYOR CHERISHES FOND DREAM

Hopes To Have Long Vacation,
As All of Us Do

After a week's vacation on the windward side of the island, Edward K. Woodward, returned yesterday to his desk as private secretary to the Mayor. And the Mayor was glad to see him.

When Woodward came into the office the Mayor was sitting in the secretary's place but instantly arose and gave Woodward the seat in the first line of franchises in the mayor's department.

Woodward said the only thing wrong with his vacation was that it was not long enough. He has a dream that some day he will have just as much vacation as his heart desires. But in the meantime he was glad to get back and greet old friends around the executive offices.

SCHOOLS OPEN FOR YEAR'S WORK WITH BIG ENROLMENTS

Fourteen Hundred New Pupils
Start Year, Estimate of Department

BUILDINGS OF HONOLULU ARE FILLED TO CAPACITY

Royal and Kaulani Send Their Overflow Children To Central Grammar

No prettier and more promising sight has been seen in Honolulu for some time than the hundreds of children who hurried yesterday morning to attend the opening session of the schools. From all directions they came singly, in pairs, and in groups; some laughing, some serious, but one and all anxious not to be late for the first day before the blackboards.

And they were of all sizes, not to say of nearly all races, from the shining faced little fellow, with a flower for his teacher, to his demure larger sister, who looked upon the occasion in the light of a social event.

With but few exceptions all the teachers were at their places and were kept busy at the work of enrolling the pupils and assigning them to their respective grades and classes. From estimates made by the department of public instruction, nearly 1400 new pupils will be added to the schools of the territory this year. The largest increase will be in Honolulu, and it will be marked at the Central Grammar School especially.

Central Grammar Exceeds 1000

Exact figures of the enrolment will not be known for several days. At the Central Grammar the enrolment is expected to be more than 1000. Although there is no overcrowding in the new twelve room building is filled to capacity. In many cases it was necessary to seat the pupils at tables because of the non delivery of desks that had been ordered from the mainland. These desks are expected in a few days.

Central Grammar, besides its own pupils, is taking care of the overflow from other schools. By the middle of this week, say the teachers, all students should be comfortably settled. More than 1400 pupils are expected to be handled by the Kaulani School this year, which is 100 more than attended the classes last year. One new building has been erected to relieve the congestion in the main building. A number of one-room buildings of the kindergarten type have been added to the school's equipment. The overflow from Kaulani is being sent to Central Grammar. Eleven students have been enrolled in the school for defectives.

440 Are at McKinley High

With 200 new students enrolled in the freshman class, the McKinley High School opened its books yesterday. With the 240 former students, the enrolment was brought up to 440. The school has thirteen teachers, and during the summer a new five-room school building was erected to relieve the congestion in the main structure. A slight increase in the present enrolment is expected by Prof. Marion M. Scott.

The Territorial Normal School yesterday opened its twenty-first year with the following enrolment: senior, sixty; junior, forty; sophomore, sixty; freshman, 130. Four hundred were enrolled in the training department.

When the Royal School opened yesterday all new applicants were refused and sent to the Central Grammar. This was caused by reason of the fact that the school has been enrolling its old students since June 23. In the first grade 100 were taken in, and enough in the upper grades to fill the spare seats. The Royal expects to have a total enrolment this year of 1100 pupils.

College of Hawaii Has Many

With the opening of the College of Hawaii yesterday, President A. L. Dean announced that the classes will be larger than usual. The new students have come largely from Punahou, McKinley and Mills schools. There will be about twenty students in the freshman class.

No exact figures could be obtained from the Oahu College and the Punahou Preparatory School, but indications point to the largest enrolment in the history of these institutions.

Capacity enrolment was reported from the Kamehameha schools, 135 students being registered in the manual department and 120 in the girls' school.

After a regular torrent of little mites had stormed the seven centers of the Children's Free Kindergarten Association yesterday, Miss Frances Lawrence looked on the happy faces with satisfaction and remarked that the work of the Kindergartens is being appreciated.

Fifty Turned Away

Kakako, Kalia, Kaulawela, Fort street, Miller street and Beretania street kindergartens all were patronized, many parents bringing their children in arms to launch them on their educational careers. Palama was especially attractive to the youngsters. Miss Alice Brown, director of this school, said she had never witnessed such an influx of children, especially Japanese. After registration hour had passed there were still more than fifty children that had to be turned away.

Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Garcia, Jr., of 1719 Kahanu street, Kalia, welcomed at their home last Friday the advent of a little son.

JAMES JUMP SAYS HAWAII FISHING LEADS THE WORLD

Famous Angler Writes Brochure
On Big-game Sport of the Islands

BOOK BY GOODING FIELD BROUGHT THE PUBLICITY

Organization of Tuna Club Also Helped Advertise Local Attractions

"Jumping Around in Hawaii: A Partial Appreciation of the Best Big Game fishing and the Finest Hospitality in the World," a brochure by James W. Jump, recently received here, is a fine description of and tribute to the Islands, as its title implies. Mr. Jump came to Honolulu last winter and made some remarkable catches here, most of the time with Harold L. Morris, who built the Dixie Maru, since lost.

"Hawaiian waters offer the best and most diversified deep-sea fishing to be had in the world," Mr. Jump writes after explaining that he had fished a Catalina and Clemente and elsewhere and sighed for "new waters in which to angle."

"When one has taken yellowfin tuna, ono, dolphin, kawakawa, kaku, a big game fish, and nine other varieties in one afternoon's fishing, as I have almost every degree of enthusiasm is pardonable."

Then follow narrations of the taking of ulua, ono, dolphin, which is called the "D'Aragon of the Summer Seas" and the "king of light-tackle game fish"; yellowfin tuna, swordfish, kawakawa, kaku, described as being of the barracuda family, and aku.

New Field Opened Up

"It may seem strange that with such great sport possible Hawaiian waters have not been more frequented by anglers; but it is only recently, compared to the past, that rod and reel fishing has been advertised and cultivated," Mr. Jump writes.

"The organization of the Hawaii Tuna club along the lines of the Tuna Club of Santa Catalina Island, has started a great forward movement. The excellent folder compiled by Mr. H. Gooding Field, secretary of the Tuna club, and issued by the Hawaii promotion committee, has opened the eyes of the angling world; in fact, it was the cause of my going there to fish."

"There had been very little rod and reel fishing done; light tackle fishing was almost unknown. I may be pardoned for saying I was told that the records achieved by our different parties last spring really put Hawaii on the map of anglers and reel fishing."

"Also, little attention had been paid to providing suitable power launches such as are used at Catalina. There was no regular supply of bait. But all these drawbacks are fast being remedied."

Pioneering With Light Tackle

Mr. Jump tells how there was in credulity when he proposed to take his big fish with his light-tackle nine ounce rod and nine-thread line; and of the difficulty experienced in learning the situation of the fishing grounds.

"Rod and reel fishing was comparatively unknown. No boats were rigged for it. There was no regular supply of bait. Everybody said I would have to go to Molokai Island, seventy-five miles away, in order to obtain any sport."

But Mr. Jump ran across Jack Young and the two went scouting in the lee of Oahu. Catch of an ulua settled the question; the fish were there; they took the hook; they fought; they could be brought to gaff on rod and reel."

Mr. Jump becomes a word painter and tells in general description of the Islands with: "Truly, in Hawaii, it is not all of fishing to fish."

"Sunny Jim" McCandless, Harry A. Baldwin, H. Gooding Field, G. P. Wilder, L. K. Burnham of Martinez, California; George Frieland, Louis Weinberger, John Fleming, W. H. Field, Dr. James H. Raymond, John Kaelamakele, Kailua, Daniel Kaulani, a guide deeded to take Mr. Jump to Captain Cook's monument at Kealahou, J. P. Curtis and John F. Colburn are mentioned gracefully as having been kind and hospitable.

"The Hawaii Tuna Club and individual sportsmen and business men have put up a score or more very handsome cups for prizes, upon the system followed by the Tuna club of Santa Catalina Island. One of these cups cost three hundred dollars. They are given outright. I brought home the twelve inch cup given by George P. Cooke for the first game fish over thirty pounds taken on light tackle. These Honolulu boys are thorough sportsmen, too. One man, in order to promote rod and reel fishing among gentlemen anglers, went out and bought six expensive outfits, rods, reels, lines, etc., and presented them to friends."

There are cuts of Hawaiian scenes, fish, of Mr. Jump and other anglers and a map of the Islands, which indicates the best grounds for each fish.

NEW STAFF MEMBERS

TO RECEIVE WELCOME

Directors, members of the staff and trustees of the Y. M. C. A. will attend the annual dinner of the association next Thursday evening in honor of the new members of the staff. J. W. McGrillis, Donald Laid, Ray Baird and George Andrus. The budget will be adopted.

LESSEES CANNOT STOP BERETANIA STREET PROJECT

Legal Opinion To This Effect By
Office of City Attorney Is
Forecast

COUP BY McCANDLESS
REPORTED AS ILLEGAL

When Board of Supervisors Holds
Next Meeting Matter Will
Be Considered

There is much whispering around the city hall and conferences held in silent corners are the order of the day. Also there is considerable traffic between the office of the city engineer and the city attorney.

Just what all this sub rosa administration is could not be officially learned yesterday, but it is believed to refer to the Beretania street project. Since L. L. McCandless, by an act of civic sabotage, threw a monkey wrench into the well-greased machinery of municipal development and halted the wheels of the Beretania street improvement, Acting City Attorney A. M. Cristy has been busy trying to find out just what the status of a lessee's in signing petitions. He has been making researches for two weeks.

Discreet But Annoying Silence

Assisting him has been City Engineer George M. Collins, who has been handling the statistics of the matter. Between the two, however, there has been considerable intimacy during the past fortnight. But neither of the officials has anything to say about the matter. They maintain a discreet if an annoying silence. It is generally known, however, that they have been doing team work to discover whether or not lessees have any rights to protest against municipal improvement.

The city attorney's office will have its report to present to the board of supervisors tomorrow night. It will not be made public until that time. But it is the prediction of The Advertiser that the findings of Cristy will be to the effect that lessees occupying property along Beretania street will not have a legal leg to stand on. In other words, the Beretania street improvement will be ordered to proceed, just as soon as the supervisors have time to study the report that will be filed by Acting City Attorney Cristy tomorrow night.

McCandless Has Inning

At the last meeting of the supervisors, when the improvement from Nuuano to King street was apparently halted for six months by a mass of signatures presented by McCandless, it was thought that the improvement project was pau. There was a lot of not unkindly plink at that meeting which, if it went up in thin air because of necessary legal advice, it was learned that more than fifty-five per cent of the residents in the district had signed the petition of protest against the proposed work. McCandless was given credit for having the petition circulated. Then it leaked through into the feeble brain of one of the board members of the legal department, that the signatures of lessees might not be legal. The matter was held in abeyance, and the City Attorney's office directed to make the proper legal researches.

These researches are now complete. The report is being prepared; in fact it is about completed, and will go into the hands of the supervisors tomorrow night. It is being kept secret. No body is supposed to know what it contains. But around the corridors of the city hall it is an even bet that the findings will result in the Beretania subject being thrown wide open and a possibility that the supervisors will order the work to go forward.

BOOKINGS FOR HILO

ARE ABOUT CLOSED

Secretary Brown Will Have List
Completed By Tonight

"Hear ye! Hear ye!" This is the cry raised by Raymond C. Brown, secretary of the chamber of commerce, who has been making out the arrangements for the civic convention to be held next week in Hilo.

Brown still has a number of names on the lists of possible persons who might wish to make the trip in the hatched ship. He wants them to get forward, to phone, send a messenger, or otherwise inform him not later than tonight whether or not they will go to Hilo next Wednesday.

"I am not a clairvoyant," said Brown yesterday; "at least I do not propose to use any occult methods in the work of the chamber. A number of reservations have been made and will be held until tomorrow when I shall turn them all into the steamship company. Whoever intends to go to the convention and whoever on my lists who does not intend to go, would oblige me greatly by so advising me later than tonight."

Secretary Brown further wants it understood that while all reservations have been made, those who intend to make the trip will have to make their individual arrangements with the Hilo Island Steam Navigation company for tickets.

MAINE FERRY

Legal Opinion To This Effect By
Office of City Attorney Is
Forecast

COUP BY McCANDLESS
REPORTED AS ILLEGAL

When Board of Supervisors Holds
Next Meeting Matter Will
Be Considered

There is much whispering around the city hall and conferences held in silent corners are the order of the day. Also there is considerable traffic between the office of the city engineer and the city attorney.

Just what all this sub rosa administration is could not be officially learned yesterday, but it is believed to refer to the Beretania street project. Since L. L. McCandless, by an act of civic sabotage, threw a monkey wrench into the well-greased machinery of municipal development and halted the wheels of the Beretania street improvement, Acting City Attorney A. M. Cristy has been busy trying to find out just what the status of a lessee's in signing petitions. He has been making researches for two weeks.

Discreet But Annoying Silence

Assisting him has been City Engineer George M. Collins, who has been handling the statistics of the matter. Between the two, however, there has been considerable intimacy during the past fortnight. But neither of the officials has anything to say about the matter. They maintain a discreet if an annoying silence. It is generally known, however, that they have been doing team work to discover whether or not lessees have any rights to protest against municipal improvement.

The city attorney's office will have its report to present to the board of supervisors tomorrow night. It will not be made public until that time. But it is the prediction of The Advertiser that the findings of Cristy will be to the effect that lessees occupying property along Beretania street will not have a legal leg to stand on. In other words, the Beretania street improvement will be ordered to proceed, just as soon as the supervisors have time to study the report that will be filed by Acting City Attorney Cristy tomorrow night.

McCandless Has Inning

At the last meeting of the supervisors, when the improvement from Nuuano to King street was apparently halted for six months by a mass of signatures presented by McCandless, it was thought that the improvement project was pau. There was a lot of not unkindly plink at that meeting which, if it went up in thin air because of necessary legal advice, it was learned that more than fifty-five per cent of the residents in the district had signed the petition of protest against the proposed work. McCandless was given credit for having the petition circulated. Then it leaked through into the feeble brain of one of the board members of the legal department, that the signatures of lessees might not be legal. The matter was held in abeyance, and the City Attorney's office directed to make the proper legal researches.

These researches are now complete. The report is being prepared; in fact it is about completed, and will go into the hands of the supervisors tomorrow night. It is being kept secret. No body is supposed to know what it contains. But around the corridors of the city hall it is an even bet that the findings will result in the Beretania subject being thrown wide open and a possibility that the supervisors will order the work to go forward.

BOOKINGS FOR HILO

ARE ABOUT CLOSED

Secretary Brown Will Have List
Completed By Tonight

"Hear ye! Hear ye!" This is the cry raised by Raymond C. Brown, secretary of the chamber of commerce, who has been making out the arrangements for the civic convention to be held next week in Hilo.

Brown still has a number of names on the lists of possible persons who might wish to make the trip in the hatched ship. He wants them to get forward, to phone, send a messenger, or otherwise inform him not later than tonight whether or not they will go to Hilo next Wednesday.

"I am not a clairvoyant," said Brown yesterday; "at least I do not propose to use any occult methods in the work of the chamber. A number of reservations have been made and will be held until tomorrow when I shall turn them all into the steamship company. Whoever intends to go to the convention and whoever on my lists who does not intend to go, would oblige me greatly by so advising me later than tonight."

Secretary Brown further wants it understood that while all reservations have been made, those who intend to make the trip will have to make their individual arrangements with the Hilo Island Steam Navigation company for tickets.

MAINE FERRY

Legal Opinion To This Effect By
Office of City Attorney Is
Forecast

COUP BY McCANDLESS
REPORTED AS ILLEGAL

When Board of Supervisors Holds
Next Meeting Matter Will
Be Considered

There is much whispering around the city hall and conferences held in silent corners are the order of the day. Also there is considerable traffic between the office of the city engineer and the city attorney.

Just what all this sub rosa administration is could not be officially learned yesterday, but it is believed to refer to the Beretania street project. Since L. L. McCandless, by an act of civic sabotage, threw a monkey wrench into the well-greased machinery of municipal development and halted the wheels of the Beretania street improvement, Acting City Attorney A. M. Cristy has been busy trying to find out just what the status of a lessee's in signing petitions. He has been making researches for two weeks.

Discreet But Annoying Silence

Assisting him has been City Engineer George M. Collins, who has been handling the statistics of the matter. Between the two, however, there has been considerable intimacy during the past fortnight. But neither of the officials has anything to say about the matter. They maintain a discreet if an annoying silence. It is generally known, however, that they have been doing team work to discover whether or not lessees have any rights to protest against municipal improvement.

The city attorney's office will have its report to present to the board of supervisors tomorrow night. It will not be made public until that time. But it is the prediction of The Advertiser that the findings of Cristy will be to the effect that lessees occupying property along Beretania street will not have a legal leg to stand on. In other words, the Beretania street improvement will be ordered to proceed, just as soon as the supervisors have time to study the report that will be filed by Acting City Attorney Cristy tomorrow night.

McCandless Has Inning

At the last meeting of the supervisors, when the improvement from Nuuano to King street was apparently halted for six months by a mass of signatures presented by McCandless, it was thought that the improvement project was pau. There was a lot of not unkindly plink at that meeting which, if it went up in thin air because of necessary legal advice, it was learned that more than fifty-five per cent of the residents in the district had signed the petition of protest against the proposed work. McCandless was given credit for having the petition circulated. Then it leaked through into the feeble brain of one of the board members of the legal department, that the signatures of lessees might not be legal. The matter was held in abeyance, and the City Attorney's office directed to make the proper legal researches.

These researches are now complete. The report is being prepared; in fact it is about completed, and will go into the hands of the supervisors tomorrow night. It is being kept secret. No body is supposed to know what it contains. But around the corridors of the city hall it is an even bet that the findings will result in the Beretania subject being thrown wide open and a possibility that the supervisors will order the work to go forward.

BOOKINGS FOR HILO

ARE ABOUT CLOSED

Secretary Brown Will Have List
Completed By Tonight

"Hear ye! Hear ye!" This is the cry raised by Raymond C. Brown, secretary of the chamber of commerce, who has been making out the arrangements for the civic convention to be held next week in Hilo.

Brown still has a number of names on the lists of possible persons who might wish to make the trip in the hatched ship. He wants them to get forward, to phone, send a messenger, or otherwise inform him not later than tonight whether or not they will go to Hilo next Wednesday.

"I am not a clairvoyant," said Brown yesterday; "at least I do not propose to use any occult methods in the work of the chamber. A number of reservations have been made and will be held until tomorrow when I shall turn them all into the steamship company. Whoever intends to go to the convention and whoever on my lists who does not intend to go, would oblige me greatly by so advising me later than tonight."

Secretary Brown further wants it understood that while all reservations have been made, those who intend to make the trip will have to make their individual arrangements with the Hilo Island Steam Navigation company for tickets.

HONOLULU STOCK EXCHANGE

Monday, September 11, 1916

Name of Stock Last Sale Bid Asked

Mercantile
Alexander & Baldwin 300 300
C. Brewer & Co. 475 450 485

Sugar
Ewa Plantation Co. 34 34 35
Hauka Sugar Co. 245 245
Haw. Agri. Co. 45 45
Haw. Com'l Sugar 50 50 50 1/2
Haw. Sugar Co. 44 45 45 1/2
Honokaa Sugar Co. 12 12 12 1/2
Honolulu Sugar Co. 200 200
Hutchinson Sugar Co. 30 30 30 1/2
Kaukahu Sugar Co. 22 22 22 1/2
Kekaha Sugar Co. 215 210
Koloa Sugar Co. 225 210
McBryde Sugar Co. 12 12 12 1/2
Oahu Sugar Co. 33 33 33 1/2
Ola Sugar Co. 18 18 18 1/2
Onomea Sugar Co. 55 54 55 1/2
Pahoa Sugar Co. 29 29 29 1/2
Pae Sugar Mill 20 20 20 1/2
Pain Plant'n Co. 150 150
Pepee Sugar Co. 250 250
Pioneer Mill Co. 40 40 40 1/2
San Carlos Mill Co. 18 18 18 1/2
Waialua Agri. Co. 35 35 35 1/2
Waialua Sugar Co. 180 180

Miscellaneous
Eudon Dev. Co. Ltd. 1st Is. As. 50% pd. 100 100
2nd Is. As. 40% pd. 100 100
Hauka F. & P. Co. 19 1/2 19 1/2
Haw. Elec. Co. 167 167
Haw. Pine Co. 49 1/2 48 1/2 49 1/2
Hon. Brew. & Malt. 20 20 20 1/2
Hon. Gas Co. 120 120
H. R. T. & L. Co. 190 190
I. S. Nav. Co. 200 200
Mutual Tel. Co. 20 20
O. R. & L. Co. 160 160
Pahang Rubber Co. 24 24
Selma Dindings Plan. Ltd. 15 15
Selma Dindings Plan. Ltd. (49% pd.) 9 1/2 9 1/2
Tanjong Olok Rub. 47 47

Bonds
Hankuk Ditch Co. 6 1/2 103 103
Haw. Tr. Co. 80 80
Haw. Tr. Imp. 4 1/2 101 101
Haw. Terr. 3 1/2 98 1/2 98 1/2
Honokaa Sugar, 6 1/2 96 96
Hon. Gas Co. 5 1/2 104 104
H. R. T. & L. Co. 6 1/2 102 1/2 102 1/2
Kauai Ry. Co. 6 1/2 101 1/2 101 1/2
Manua Imp. Dis. 5 1/2 100 1/2 100 1/2
McBryde Sugar 5 1/2 100 100
Mutual Tel. Co. 5 1/2 106 106
O. R. & L. Co. 5 1/2 106 106
Ola Sugar Co. 6 1/2 102 102
Ola Sugar Co. 6 1/2 102 102 1/2
Pae Sugar Mill 6 1/2 100 100
San Carlos, 6 1/2 100 100 1/2

Between Boards
Ola 35, 100, 18 1/2 1/2; Pioneer 5, 40 1/2; H. C. & S. Co. 25, 15, 400, 50 00; Oahu Sugar Co., 50, 35 1/2; Ola 6, 4000, 102 00; Hon. Gas 5, 4500, 104 00;

Session Sales
Oahu Sugar Co., 5, 50, 30, 33 1/2; Pioneer 40, 40 50; Ola 25,